Dragon has always prided in utilizing the latest technologies when developing our products. So when it comes to providing information to our fans and customers, we definitely keep up with the times!

www.dragon-models.com

The Dragon Official Website is getting a complete makeover! The upgraded website will feature a newly designed user interface as well as an extensive product database. Combined with a powerful search engine, the new website allows you to search for the thousands of Dragon items at your fingertips! Stay tuned!

YouTube 6767 DRAGON

Dragon uses top-of-the-line computer-aided programs, and the very latest software allows us to produce three-dimensional renditions of kits. These 3D previews of Dragon kits are now regularly released on YouTube for the enjoyment of modelers. The short 3D presentations allow you to see all the scintillating interior and exterior detail of your chosen kit at a glance.

Dragon Models

Through the use of the social networking sites Facebook, Dragon enables more interaction with the hobby community, as well as providing hobbyists with the most updated product information.

INNOVATION & TECHNOLOGY

Over the past decade, computer-aided design (CAD) has proven an extremely powerful tool for Dragon. The newest CAD technology in our toolbox is an industry-leading software program. This easy-to-use desktop content authoring platform can automatically generate product information, or even create a 3D preview that offers a powerful means of communication. Our IJA Type 95 "Ha-Gō" Early Production kit is a fine example of the impressive communications that the software can achieve. Modelers can look forward to a much wider use of the software in future kit releases, especially for our eye-catching blue-ribbon items. The product information that Dragon provides will be clearer and more accurate than ever before.

Dragon is not shy in announcing how widely it employs slide-mold technology in all its plastic kits. Slide molds permit all sorts of stunning detail to be incorporated. And for complex shapes, slide molds are the only way to go as they enable one-piece components to be formed. Fewer but more complex parts mean your model is so much more accurate plus it is easier to assemble. Modelers will be intrigued to know that our technological expertise is taking slide molding to a whole new level! Kits now often boast complex 5-directional slide molds in their production. Dragon is soaring to new heights in the realm of technological sophistication!

The Flakpanzer IV "Ostwind" was Germany's second-generation self-propelled anti-aircraft weapon system. At its heart was a more effective 3.7cm Flak 43/1 cannon that could traverse 360° in its six-sided open-topped turret. The barrel of this cannon is not just a plain tube for it has a flared muzzle containing numerous holes. Dragon designers paid special attention to the 3.7cm barrel and hollow muzzle, and carefully replicated the requisite fine detail on the plastic slide-molded muzzle.

Weld Seams

Using Dragon's vast injection-molding experience, kit have been upgraded and improved to the sharpness of detail. This is particularly evident in the weld seams of Panzer III Ausf.N kit. Many components such as the gun shield, turret, glacis plate and engine deck have received upgraded weld seams to make the tank appear more realistic. Overall, Dragon kit has been finely honed and toned.

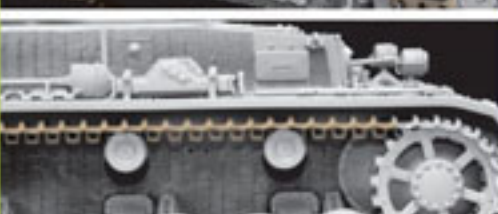

DS tracks were revolutionary in the model kit industry when Dragon first unveiled them. The use of our patented DS material has continued to revolutionize the industry. Not only do our DS tracks carry highly detailed patterns on their top surfaces, but they do the same on the bottom surface now too!

Dragon introduced Magic Tracks – individual links that are pre-cut and ready-to-assembled straight from the box – are extremely convenient links have been seen that have saved countless modelers from insanity. Magic Tracks are simply unbeatable in terms of their realism and ease of assembly. However, as part of our technological spiral, surfaces on contemporary Magic Tracks can now even feature the cast name of the factory where the original track links were made! This authentic details can be seen on such kit as the Ferdinand, Kursk 1943.

With its Gen2 sets, Dragon has revolutionized the way modelers think about plastic figures. These new miniature "beings" prove that unparalleled detail doesn't need to come at a cost, or that it doesn't have to remain the preserve of resin manufacturers. Using slide molds, the smallest and most subtle details on bodies and uniforms are possible, often through the use of separate parts such as hands, boots, collars or greatcoat skirts. Dragon has subsequently built upon the success of its Gen2 figures by offering Gen2 Gear. Old personal gear such as water bottles, helmets, bread bags, canteens, backpacks and bayonet holders have all been retooled. This means Dragon's Gen2 figures can operate and fight with top-flight gear that is right up to the task. These carefully researched Gen2 figures are now ready to get their Gen2 gear on, resulting in the best plastic figures of their generation!

Dragon Zimmerit represents a breakthrough in hi-tech molding techniques. Through extensive research and testing over an extended period of time, Dragon has developed high-quality injection-molded Zimmerit for a variety of German armored vehicles. All miniature Zimmerit patterns are created in the first place by a master-class modelers, which ensures the coating is natural looking and not mechanically regular in appearance. This handcrafted Zimmerit application is subsequently realized as the basis for each injection-molded casting. A fine example of the modeler's touch in Dragon Zimmerit is the unique pattern on the glacis plate of Flakpanzer IV Ausf.G "Wirbelwind". Dragon Zimmerit demonstrates a human touch, just as the case was on original vehicles.

CAD/CAM

Even the unobservant would have noticed the computer-generated drawings that adorn Dragon kit boxes. These are a by product of the hi-tech CAD/CAM system utilized in all new kits and figure sets. Advanced computer-aided design and computer-aided manufacturing technology enhances the whole production process, resulting in kits that possess stunning accuracy. If you need proof of this, just look at the pictures on any Panzer IV or Tiger box, and the mind-boggling detail that is made possible with CAD/CAM.
